MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Executive Director
Deputy Director for Administration

FROM: [redacted]
Director of Training and Education

25X1

SUBJECT: Soviet Affairs Training Program

REFERENCE: Memo for DDA, DDI, DDO, DDS&T, D/OTE fm DCI,
dtd 7 August 85, same subject

1. I have explored your request for recommendations regarding a Soviet Affairs Training Program with a working group consisting of and representatives of the DO [redacted] DI (Doug MacEachin), and DS&T [redacted] and the NIO/USSR.

25X1

2. The working group strongly agrees that the Agency generally--and especially the junior and mid-level officers working directly on the USSR--would benefit greatly from a first-rate Soviet Affairs Training Program. The program would consist of:

--four to five one- to two-week courses;

--10 - 15 specialized modules;

--luncheon/evening seminars;

--video/self-study.

3. Objectives

The working group agreed that the principal objectives of the program are to:

--bring up to speed quickly officers who work on the USSR but whose academic or professional background on the Soviet Union is limited;

SUBJECT: Soviet Affairs Training Program

—strengthen the understanding of Soviet specialists in areas not of their specialty, with emphasis on Soviet active measures, deception, and intelligence operations;

—strengthen the understanding of the totality of the Soviet Union as a political problem for the U.S. and as the first priority intelligence issue for CIA;

—challenge and enrich the perspectives of Soviet specialists;

—build a stronger sense of community among Soviet analysts and collectors;

—strengthen the understanding of the USSR on the part of non-Soviet analysts and collectors.

4. Operating Bias

The working group agreed that the content and methods of delivery must meet schedules of busy officers, [REDACTED]

25X1

[REDACTED] This means:

25X1

--courses should be as short as possible;

--stand-alone modules;

--tape and video-disc presentations, [REDACTED]

25X1

[REDACTED]
--self-study.

25X1

In addition:

--emphasis on "real world" Soviet behavior and on current and near term (1 - 3 years) Soviet intelligence issues;

--maximize exposure to different perspectives on USSR;

--maximize challenge to conventional thinking on USSR.

SUBJECT: Soviet Affairs Training Program

5. Target Audience

The program would be directed to the needs of junior and mid-level officers working primarily on the USSR. The Agency has some [redacted] professional officers, at all grades, working on Soviet issues, including: [redacted]

25X1

[redacted] Additional numbers would come from the ranks of non-Soviet specialists who have a need for some general or specialized understanding of Soviet policies or operations.

6. Courses

An overview course of about 40 hours would be designed to warrant that participants are exposed to an introductory understanding of the full range of issues. The course would go beyond substance and address the issues of the limits to our knowledge, that is, the role of the interpretation, bias, and assumption. We would continue: a three-and-one-half-day unit of the "Soviet threat" in the CT program, a two-week USSR Country Survey Course designed for non-Soviet specialists,

25X1

7. Modules

A major part of the Soviet training program would consist of about 10 - 15 specialized modules. Among the topics under consideration are:

- The Soviet Union as an Intelligence Target
- Soviet Active Measures
- Soviet Measures for Deception
- Soviets and Arms Control
- Soviet Economics
- Kremlin Politics

- Soviet Military Strategy and Doctrine
- Soviets in the Third World
- Scientific and Technical Trends
- Security and Intelligence Operations

8. Seminars

A coordinated series of luncheon and evening seminars would be designed to complement the program by exposing Agency officers to the full range of competing interpretations on key aspects of the modular courses.

25X1

9. Program Director and Staff

The working group is unanimous in its recommendation that a DO officer, either current or retired, direct all aspects of the proposed Soviet Affairs Study Program. We have a list of retired SE officers and have already been in touch with a couple of excellent candidates (see Attachment A). (Incidentally, there is very strong support for this effort on the part of every Soviet specialist we have talked to.)

10. We have developed a list of Soviet hands in CIA who would be willing to help with incidental parts of the program (see Attachment B). A similar list of outside experts is being developed (see Attachment C).

11. Issues

The working group believes strongly that some elements of the program should be required of all Soviet specialists. For example, you could mandate that all Soviet specialists must take at least two modules per year or that all new Soviet specialists take the overview course within two years of their assignment. The details can be worked out, but we need your views on the question of what, if anything, is "required."

--Yes, some elements should be required

--No, we do not need to make any aspect required

--Let the individual Directorates decide

12. We request your approval to proceed with the development of the program. If you concur on the general approach, we will be back to you in 45 days with an action plan for implementing the first phase.

FROM: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Soviet Affairs Training Program

I would like to pursue a recommendation by the PFIAB that we set up an in-house program designed to improve our overall understanding of the Soviet Union. The concept would involve bringing together all those with the requisite expertise to provide a course of study that would run the gamut of Soviet military, economic, political, operational, etc., activities in an integrated way. This training would be made available to any and all officers, regardless of Directorate, who deal in Soviet affairs. [redacted]

I think this proposal has merit. It would allow for the exchange of knowledge and experience, improve the totality of our efforts to deal with the different aspects of the Soviet problem, and lead to officers (analysts, case officers, technical specialists) who would be better prepared for assignments in the field or in Headquarters. If it proves successful, we can consider including other members of the Community, such as attaches, in the program.

I'd like [redacted] to take the lead and head up a small group to develop options and recommendations for implementing a program of this kind. Each Directorate should be represented on this group by a highly qualified, experienced Soviet hand. I'd like recommendations on the content of the curriculum, the target audience (e.g. CTs, new analysts/case officers, middle-grade officers, or all of the above), as well as suggestions as to who we might draw on as instructors/lecturers (current employees, retirees, outsiders on contract).

Finally, I'd like to have suggestions for candidates to head this effort; here, too, we need to look for the person who best can provide the dynamic leadership a program of this kind needs--we don't need to restrict ourselves to current employees, either. I'd like to have the report of [redacted] group, with your comments, in about a month.
